Will Complete Prison Investigation on Feb. 25.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 19.—A temporary injunction to prevent the sale of the 30 former German passenger liners recently offered by the Board was granted today by Associate Justice Butler of the District Supreme Court. Justice Butler said that after a careful examination of the statutes, he was of the opinion that they did not show any intention on the part of Congress to place in the President or in the Shipping Board, the power to sell the ships. Application for the injunction was made last Saturday by William Randolph Hearst and hearings on it were held just Monday while the ships were being offered at public auction. The board announced yesterday that it had decided to reject all of the bids received. At the same time it asked Congress for authority to again offer the ships at public auction.

POLICY OF DEMOTING
ARMY OFFICERS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 19.—In response to a resolution regarding the war department policy of demotion, Secretary Baker informed the senate committee that its plan was to demote officers when they became surplus in the temporary grades. On Nov. 14, 1918, about 7500 regular officers were holding advanced grades, but this had to be reduced to about 3000, with demotions continuing, the secretary said. The resolution asked for a list of officers demoted and other information, but Secretary Baker said this would require four months' work and cost $20,000.

25 GUESTS
STILL MISSING

Police and Firemen Investigate Hotel Fire.

(By Associated Press)
Providence, R. I., Feb. 19.—Unable definitely to locate 25 guests of the Hotel Lorraine, which was burned yesterday with loss of three lives, police and fire officials today made further search of the ruins. It was their opinion, however, that the missing ones had escaped or had not found it convenient as yet to send word of their safety. In several instances, other guests had said that they saw the streets after the five persons who are named as missing. Official investigation was directed also toward determining whether the condition of the building and the fuel that warning to guests were said to be delayed warranted a grand jury inquiry.

PROVISIONS DISCUSSED BY
R. R. HEADS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 19.—Wage provisions of the reorganized railroad reorganization bill reported to the Senate and House yesterday, entered largely into the deliberations beginning today of the conference between Director General Jines and 25 leading railroad executives. Sections of the revised measure, which it was considered would attract the most attention from the railroad executives, were those prohibiting any reduction of wages of railroad workers prior to September 1 and creating a permanent arbitration board of nine members representing the public, the workers and the corporation.

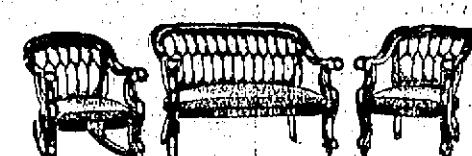

Washington, Feb. 19.—President Wilson began drafting his reply to the Allied Supreme Council's note on the Adriatic situation early today and he hopes to be able to have it transmitted today or tomorrow. There was no intimation at the White House as to the nature of the President's reply.

The allied note received yesterday is "about as long as the President's first note." It was said at the White House. Reports from London said the allied reply contained about 4000 words and these figures were accepted by White House officials as being approximately correct.

CAUSE OF HIGH COST OF LIVING Says Profiteering Last of Six Reasons.

New York, Feb. 18.—Profiteering is the last and least of six reasons for the high cost of living given today by Howard H. Pigg, an assistant U. S. attorney general at the bi-annual convention of the National Dry Goods Association.

Mr. Pigg asserted, however, that some of the dry goods dealers were guilty of profiteering and should be punished without trial, while he believed that all were guilty of having profited, perhaps unwittingly, at some time or other.

The first reason for present conditions, said the speaker, "is the increased volume of money and credit; second, the wide increase in wages due partly to war necessities and government war bonuses; third, increased world production; fourth, increased cost of distribution; fifth, reckless extravagance and a spirit of speculation; and sixth, profiteering."

Mr. Pigg predicted that there would be no appreciable reduction in prices until labor considered itself a part of the whole of industry and consented to co-operate.

"I do not mean," he explained, "that labor must give up its short workday and its high wages, but I do mean that labor must bent its back and work a full 60 minutes each hour."

Labor cannot be made to see the position into which it is putting the entire industry of the world, Mr. Pigg said, adding that no appreciable reduction in prices could come until all interests—labor, the public, the manufacturer, producer-wholesaler and distributor co-operate.

"I think," he said, "the necessity for a reduction in prices is to save business, it used to be to appease the consumer, but it's to save business this time. The public in large part has lost confidence in the big business of the country. We want to re-establish that confidence. I believe in one thing, the government can do. We realize in Washington, however, that we cannot reduce prices without the aid of all interests."

MARHTA WAITS AWARDED $6,525

Jury Finds for Plaintiff in Exeter Damage Suit Trial.

Exeter, Feb. 18.—The jury in the case of Martha Waits of Londonderry forewoman of the Deery Shoe Co., vs. the Deery Shoe Co., after being out but half an hour brought back a verdict of $6,525 for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Waits brought suit of $15,000 for injuries alleged to have been caused by negligence on the part of the Deery Shoe Co., the defendant, the allegation being that she fell on a slippery floor, while in the act of carrying a rack of shoes across the room, the floor being dangerous by an extra application of water, put on to cool the room on a hot day.

The case began Monday morning and has been on trial since, the counsel being John Scammon and Frank A. Batchelder of Exeter for the plaintiff and George T. Hughes of Dover for the defendant.

The foreman of the jury was Ernest Beede of Fremont.

The arguments were made this morning, Mr. Hughes making the plea for the defense, argued that the frequent sweeping of the room, and applications of water done for the benefit of employees was not negligence.

That the plaintiff herself admitted that the sweeping was done each day that the application of water was a daily occurrence.

Mr. Hughes contended that if the Deery Shoe Co. could not sprinkle the floor daily for the benefit of the employees, it must then abandon the custom of long standing, and one that is practiced by every large factory in the country.

Witnesses, he said, had stated that the room would have been unbearable from the heat had it not been done.

The argument for the plaintiff was made by Attorney John Scammon, who said that the suit was brought under the employers' liability act which could be applied to a firm with high powered machinery, and employing five or more persons, and if the man who sprinkled the floor put on too much water and made it dangerous, Mrs. Waits could recover for it.

He argued that she was a part of the manufacture, and was required to hurry and her fall happened where Mr. Blodgett, the supervisor, told her to get the most water, that Mrs. Waits had her hands full of shoes and could not look down on the floor to see where it was wet.

The case went to the jury at noon. At two this afternoon a jury was empannelled to try together the suit for damages brought by Joseph F. Holmes of Hampton against George W. Williams of Boston, following an automobile accident which happened on the Lafayette road, upon the cut-off near the site of the old Whittier hotel, also a suit brought by Mr. Williams.

In the opening statement to the jury, counsel for Mr. Holmes stated that the evidence would show that Mr. Williams was driving a red Jordan automobile at a high rate of speed, and being in position to see that a large crowd of people had gathered at the side of the road and that vehicles had stopped there where an auction was being held at the Nellie Macpherson place, did not shorten his speed, but ran into Mr. Holmes' automobile which had been driven to the side of the road to allow him sufficient room to pass. The case is based on alleged negligence. Several witnesses were called during the afternoon.

Counsel for the plaintiff are Sleepen and Brown of Exeter, and Messers. Marvin, Hatchelder, and Pooyer of Portsmouth for the defendant.

ARMY ESSAY CONTESTS INTEREST SCHOLARS

Army recruiting offices everywhere this past week from school children to the writers have not only been collecting facts about the army, but have been writing "practice essays" to hone in order to turn in a prize-winning composition on Contest day.

Some of the children have even been writing practice essays in the census rooms. In a school on Long Island, N. Y., for instance, the students of the English classes brought notes on the army to the census room and after reciting orally wrote their revelations down on paper. They did this twice in the past two weeks and will do it once more this week before their final competition on Friday.

Of course there is the way of telling now who are going to be the prize winners. But it looks like a pretty safe guess that many of the students who have been busy on practice essays will come in for their share of the prizes. Not only is their practice work helping them to express their thoughts about the army clearly, but it also helps them to select the best ideas to write about. The army is a great big subject. Thousands of words could be written about it without telling the whole story. So these students who have picked out the most important and interesting facts are more than likely to win the favor of the work.

When Colds Lead to Pneumonia

When a cold is neglected it attacks the lining of the lungs—then it's pneumonia. Father John's Medicinal Extract—colds and prevents pneumonia because it purifies the system and drives out the poisonous waste matter—any other way of treating a cold is likely to lead to pneumonia. No. 1 "Cough Syrup" depending upon dangerous drugs, but a good medicine and body builder.

Judge who will affect the winners. Wherever recruiting officers have been asked by students for advice, they have impressed one thing on their minds, simplicity.

No matter how good your idea is, the judges cannot know about it unless these ideas are expressed very plainly and clearly. Big words are not needed in writing about the army. Almost the whole story can be written in words of one and two syllables.

Among the fourteen branches of army in the construction division this division, as you will guess from its name, does a great deal of building or construction work for the army. It also does hundreds of odd jobs about camps, posts, cantonments, forts and other places where soldiers are quartered. And in time of war it gives great help to the army by whole by doing "contraband work" in the field and the "kitchen" where the soldiers are quartered and supplies are kept.

Approximately 1700 of the books which were provided through the generosity of residents of New Hampshire for the army, navy and marine corps during the war are being returned to the state by the American Library Association, after having been service literally in all parts of the world.

The books among them many technical volumes, recently were shipped from New York by the American Library Association to Grace E. Kingsland of the Free Public Library Commission at Concord, who will have charge of circulating the books all over the state. They are expected to relieve temporarily the need for wide public library service, which, since the war has been pronounced in New Hampshire as well as other states.

Resources of the public libraries everywhere are not equal to the greatly increased demand.

In view of this need the American Library Association expects to receive substantial support from the residents of New Hampshire in its undertaking of a nation-wide effort to extend public library facilities.

The association is gathering a fund of two million dollars with which to carry out this aim, as well as many other features of a program which will make the public library a real force in building an intelligent, productive citizenship throughout the U. S. in the work of collecting funds, Chas. W. D. Heldt, Director of the Boston Public Library, is serving as regional director for New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

An Institute of the regional directors from the entire country now is being held in New York for the purpose of perfecting plans for collecting the two million dollar fund and pushing the much-needed work with all possible vigor.

In the use to be given the books recently returned to the states, the request has been made that the service purpose of the books be remembered and that especial efforts be made to meet the needs of ex-service men with them. Since demobilization, the American Library Association has found it necessary to maintain huge mail service for lending books to former service men who are now in home communities which do not have public libraries. The books recently sent to this state will probably be used as traveling libraries.

Several millions of books were worn out by huge usage in the camps, hospitals and training stations, but the American Library Association was able to salvage more than one million volumes from the war work in America and overseas.

The war library work taught thousands of men to make intelligent use of books. In the past six months, libraries in every state have been reporting that they are overwhelmed by the demand, especially for useful books on technical or vocational subjects.

ABDUCTORS TO BE EXTRADITED

Child Taken From Iowa to New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 18.—After a protracted hearing today Governor John H. Hartlett announced that he would sign the extradition papers sought by the governor of Iowa who asks for the return to that state for trial of Ella Buchanan and Helen Winter, who are charged with being fugitives from justice and having obtained from her help Constantine Hope Winter, 9 years old, fleeing from the respective defendants.

Governor Hartlett said that reasonable time should be given for the bringing of habeas corpus proceedings and counsel agreed that for that purpose the papers of extradition should not be issued until next Tuesday.

The father of the child, whose mother is dead, accompanied by his son, his council, Judge Roberts, formerly of the Iowa district court, and two advocates came from Iowa for his hearing. Stanton Owen of Laconia, as their New Hampshire counsel and left their case to the governor as his judge.

Attorney General Oscar L. Young advised the governor that on the face of the papers extradition should be granted.

The defendants and the little girl attended the hearing in the custody of Sheriff V. D. Elliott of Belknap county and were represented by Colonel Stephen S. Hewitt of Laconia, who claimed that the papers in the case were insufficient from a legal standpoint and that from a moral standpoint a great wrong would be done if the child were sent back to her father and her sister and aunt punished for what they were doing in her behalf.

MAINE AIDS HER TEACHERS

Augusta, Me., Feb. 18.—The governor and council tonight voted to appropriate $100,000 to aid towns of the state to increase salaries of their school teachers. According to the news at the present time there is an equalization fund of $50,000 administered by the state superintendent of public schools.

This is distributed to towns that also by taxation more than the average funds for school purposes.

The sum authorized by the governor and council tonight is virtually an addition to this equalization fund, so that the state superintendent of public schools will have $150,000 instead of $50,000 to use in the year 1920.

In view of this need the American Library Association expects to receive substantial support from the residents of New Hampshire in its undertaking of a nation-wide effort to extend public library facilities.

FUND TO KEEP PHIL. STRAIGHT

(By Associated Press) Philadelphia Feb. 18—More than $7,000 will be available for the improvement of governmental conditions in Philadelphia under the will of Thos. Shelton Harrison, formerly United States minister and consul general to Egypt. He created a board of managers "to have charge of" the fund which represented half of his fortune, and to use the income from it "for the correction of wrongs and irregularities in the administration of municipal government. The managers include representatives of leading civic organizations.

"The fund will be used," says the trust company that is administering the will, "for the impartial enforcement of all municipal contracts, to obtain prosecution and punishment of persons guilty of violation of contracts with the city or of speculation with the funds to investigate municipal affairs, to aid the city by advice, to aid in the inauguration of municipal reform and to assist in any special investigation to further the immediate adoption by the city of a wise, clear and accurate system of bookkeeping and accounting, including the frequent publication of liquid statements of the city's financial condition. The interests of no political party will be furthered."

Some Old-Fashioned Ideas.

Vice President Marshall is a candidate for delegate-at-large from Indiana to the Democratic National Convention, and if elected, as he undoubtedly will be, he wants to be a member of the platform committee, as he has some notions with reference to the duty of his party that he wants incorporated in the platform.

Some of his ideas may be considered old-fashioned, but they are not without merit. He demands what he terms the "Jeffersonian" right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, and says the Democratic party should rebuild the American political structure along lines which will insure this right. He asks that the laws be made to rest equally upon all men, that no obstacles be placed in the way of men striving honestly for success, and that those seeking success through crooked and dishonest methods be punished. Mr. Marshall wants it recognized that this is still a federation of states, and says the states should discharge the duties of local self-government and "stop skulking behind an alleged interference upon the part of the executive branch." He would have the great army of war officials and agents discharged and the affairs of the government administered along lines of the strictest economy compatible with efficiency.

It will have to be admitted that some of these ideas are calculated to remind the people of other days, so far has the country drifted from the practices commended by the Vice President. One point, in particular, which he makes is strictly in harmony with a view expressed more than once by this paper. This is where he speaks of the necessity of remembering that this is still a federation of states, and of the duty of the states to attend to all matters of local self-government. This is a duty the states have been gradually drifting away from, the drift having set in long before the war, and it has naturally been accentuated by the war. And there has been a similar movement within the states, where many matters formerly managed by towns, counties and municipalities have passed under state control. So far has this movement progressed in the states and the nation that local self-government has been largely eliminated and will in time, unless the tendency is checked, become little more than a name.

How Vice President Marshall's ideas will strike his party and the country remains to be seen; but of their general soundness there can be no question. While the United States is a nation and many of its affairs must be handled from the national standpoint, it should not be forgotten that it is also a federation of states which have rights and privileges that should never be surrendered.

While there is a popular prejudice against anything and everything that is old-fashioned, it should be remembered that some of the old-fashioned ideas and principles are not without their merits. This is an age of innovations in all things and the affairs of government are not immune, but it would be well to take account of stock before the drift toward centralization proceeds much further.

In calling attention to these facts Vice President Marshall performs a useful service, and some of the points he makes should be heeded not only by his own party, but by all parties.

The Mayor and City Council have decided that there should be a liquor agency in the city to meet the need of stimulants for medicinal purposes. Under present conditions there should be such agencies throughout the country under strict governmental control; where pure liquors could be bought at far below $10 a quart.

The country has drifted far from its old moorings. Just think of the president of the United States spending his time and energy on the question of railroad wages!

The death of Henry B. Endicott of Massachusetts removes a man who had been prominent in the public eye for some years. He was a successful business man and did valuable public work in connection with the war, and was held in high regard by the government and his fellow citizens.

The Republicans of the state of Washington very naturally accept Senator Poindexter as the state's favorite son in the coming contest for the presidential nomination. The country has an unusually large family of "favorite sons" this year.

Congressman Blanton of Texas warns the Administration that if there is any further "trucking to the demands of organized labor" lots of Democrats down his way will stop voting the Democratic ticket. No further proof is needed that there is very strong feeling on this subject in at least one of the Democratic strongholds of the country.

The Boston Board of Health is waging a vigorous campaign against spitting in public places, the action probably being prompted by the prevalence of influenza. But the enforcement of the law is in order at all times and might well be more strict in Boston and elsewhere.

In view of the fact that wine can be made from currants it is almost a wonder that the "dry" forces will permit the use of the word, "concurrent," in connection with the work of enforcement.

The birth of a new practical idea for stabilizing the labor situation would add another great February holiday to the calendar.

In Jasius Company.

(From the Baltimore American, Rep.) Vice President Marshall has reason to be uneasy; for if he has told a single good story preempted by the President he is guilty of usurpation.

A One-Way Journey.

(From the Springfield Union) Many persons are said to have applied for permission to make the trip in Professor Goddard's "mon rocket." Such eagerness to commit suicide is well astonishing, but it is a decidedly changed world since the war.

Not Troubled by Gas.

(From the Richmond Times-Dispatch) Once there was a man who mixed a salicyl powder, added him self by absorbing the two powders separately and he is said to have undergone some internal disturbance, but the North Dakota Democrats, endorse Wilson and Bryan and appear to be entirely calm and comfortable.

Greece and Her Betrayers.

(From the Boston Herald) The Greeks are settling accounts with traitors. A day of reckoning with the men who betrayed Hellas in 1916 was auto to come. Col. Melikas, court-martialled for his role in the killing of King Constantine, may have imagined that it would amply protect him when he surrounded the frontier fortress of Rupe in Macedonia to the Bulgarians, who had been before it with supporting detachment of German troops. Had he not received withdrawal instructions direct from Athens? But the master was then slinking madly to his downfall, and the willing oblation of the mount was his death warrant. Convicted of high treason, Melikas is sentenced to die.

Another disgraceful affair was the surrender by Gen. Dounousis of the 4th Greek army corps, stationed at Kavala, to the enemy, on the illusory excuse of negotiating protection from the allies. The Greek soldiers were disarmed and taken to Germany, as if they were a gift from "Dad" to Brother Wilhelm. Now Dounousis, found guilty as a traitor, is sentenced to penal servitude for life. Other members of the former Greek general staff, convicted of having acted in behalf of German interests during the earlier part of the war, have received sentences commensurate with their disloyalty. The lowest traitor in the highest place escaped when he abdicated. That is not just. Yet he will have a heavy punishment in universal execration, while the names and depths of Zekizelos, Conderiotis, Danilos, Zimbrakidis and Mazarakis will be honored as long as Trojan lives and history writes a line.

The Leap to the Planet Mars.

(From Topics in The Times in New York Tribune.)

If communication with Mars must be definitely established and a rocket shot to that planet before Captain Claude C. Colling of the New York City Air Police enters the multiple-charged projectile which is to take him as a pioneer to another world, he is not likely to bid farewell to this one. The Captain makes other conditions; he is to assist in devising the passenger rocket; ten prominent scientists are to agree about the success of his venture; he is to be insured for $10,000; he is to be allowed to make a lecture tour of the country to advise the nation to the "magnificence we face" as a nation neglecting aeronautics; Colonel Jefferson DeMint Thompson, President of the Aero Club of America; President L. J. Drygas of the American Flying Club, airplane manufacturers, and representatives of the press must help him in planning adventure—the "leap." Captain Colling calls it—and in arranging his "tour of the nation."

If the Aero Club and the Flying Club, which are going backward in encouraging aeronautics, stand as sponsors for the "leap-to-Mars" they will surpass all their previous inspirations. If ten prominent scientists can be found to watch for the rocket and the safety of the passenger, Captain Colling should have a great "gallery" when the thing comes for him to be launched between two worlds. It should not be a mere spectacle. In fairness to the daring adventurer, that should be instated upon. He would have seen a man after the heart of Jules Verne, whose name was always written without a bit of blushing. American aeronauts are certainly in need of stimulation, but does any enthusiast have to go as far as Mars to put America in the van of progress as Eclipse with her rivals nowhere?

Shall We Get Those Girls?

(From the Chicago Tribune) We hope Floyd Gibbons is right in saying that French girls would come to the United States if they had a chance and enter domestic service. France has lost over a million young men and consequently over a million girls find their normal expectation of a settlement in life defeated. The French are tenacious in family, home and country, and many of these girls will prefer home industries in foreign countries, but if the United States can get them, it will get a national benefit.

They may come as domestics, but they will not remain domestics. They will improve our domestic situation for the time being, and that is worth while, although it is the minor consideration. Many of the girls will marry in the United States, establish their own homes and raise their own families.

If we obtained a million of them and if the million married American citizens we should introduce the French strain into the American composition. It is a strain we have missed and one which we need. We have hardly tapped that vein of European life.

The United States would be the better for an infusion of French cooking, manners, tenacity, thrift, family partnership, etc. A million French girls of the home-making type might temper our extravagance, modify our extravagance, improve our tables and polish up our manners.

How about knocking off a billion of the debt for a million French girls?

NAVY YARD NOTES

Légion Takes a Hand.

The Massachusetts headquarters of the American Legion has sent a telegram to the state representative in Washington relative to the threatened discharge, or ex-service men. The telegram in part is as follows:

"Whereas a considerable number of world war veterans are now employed in active and profitable employment at the Charlestown navy yard, and—
"Whereas, There exists at this time an alarming possibility, owing to the present depleted condition of the navy yard, these men will shortly find themselves out of employment, a condition which will work a hardship on them at this time of year; and—
"Whereas, The United States government for the preservation of which these men fought, and which owes them a lasting obligation, may avert this threatened disaster by the simple expedient of diverting vessels now lying in other ports for repair to the Charlestown navy yard."

"Do, it is resolved, That it is the opinion of the executive committee of the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion that immediate steps be taken with a view to maintaining of the Charlestown navy yard and its present strength, and in such manner as to provide for the retention of the world war veterans employed there."

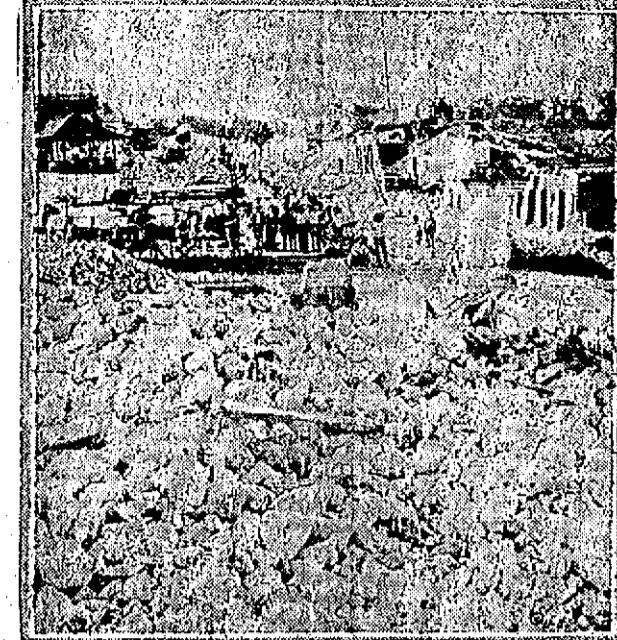

"Finé Program.

The Artist Trio composed of Vitali Bodolsky, Russian violinist; Ethel Varnell Ross, soprano, and Minnie S. Watson, gave an excellent concert at the naval prison on Wednesday night under the auspices of the morale department. Walter Steele, a humorist, and monologue artist, furnished part of the program.

Examination Required.

The members of the reserve corps will hereafter be promoted or confirmed to a higher rank without passing an examination before a board of officers with a higher rank than their commander, except in cases where such officers have previously passed

CHIROPRACTIC

(Spinal Adjustment)

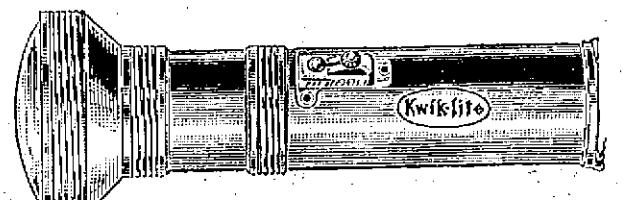

The past ten years of achievement in the relief of suffering humanity through the agency of Chiropractic speaks for its merits. Twenty-five millions know what it is, and ten millions in this country resort to it when ill. There may be some in this community who do not know the scientific basis on which this method of treatment is founded. The accompanying cut illustrates a side view of the spinal column. Kindly note the small openings which are along either side. These are the canals through which the nerves pass from the spinal cord to all parts of the body. These canals are formed by the union of notches on the upper surface of one bone of the spine and on the lower surface of the bone above. Many factors may operate to cause a slight shifting of these bones upon each other.

GROWING TRADE WITH GERMANY

New York-Hamburg Fleet
Enlarged by 12.

New York, Feb. 18—Trade with Germany has progressed so rapidly that the International Mercantile Marine Company has purchased a building and established offices in Hamburg. It was announced here today at the office of the company.

J. J. McGlone is in charge of the Hamburg business which is operated under the American line and the American passenger steamers Mongolia and Manchurian, now in the New York-Hamburg service have been supplemented by a fleet of 12 shipping board freight steamers. The freighters are to operate out of New York and Philadelphia. The Hamburg office force is to be recruited mainly from this country.

M'ADOO HINTS HE CAN'T REFUSE

Duty to Accept if Nomination
Comes Unsolicited.

New York, Feb. 18—William Gibbons Meadow announced today that he would not permit his name to be used on presidential primary ballots in the various states with that he advocated the sending of uninstructed delegates to the democratic national convention. The former secretary of the treasury said that he believed the highest constructive leadership cannot be obtained if the national interest is not "submerged in a contest of individual candidates."

"Personally," Mr. Meadow continued, "I would be delighted if the next national convention might actually be a great democratic conference where the utmost freedom of action should prevail and where the initiative of individuals alone should control."

The obligations of citizenship in a democracy are supreme, he said, and, therefore, he "should regard it as the imperative duty of any man to accept nomination if it should come to him unsolicited."

SOUTH BERWICK MAY HAVE NEW SCHOOL

An article is to be placed on the town warrant in South Berwick at the coming March election, to see if the town will raise a sufficient sum with which to purchase a lot of land to be used as a public playground at some future date build a school building sufficiently large enough to accommodate all the children of the town, has done away with the several different graded schools. The promoters of this undertaking are of the belief that it would be less expensive to the town to furnish transportation for scholars than it is now to keep the several schools in fit condition for occupancy.

EVERY DAY IS WASH DAY
AT NUBBLE POINT

By C. T. WO
We watch the surf. See it ebb and flow, hear it splash and smash and roar, see it flash in the sun as before; hear it roar and splash then smash with a terrible roar,—as the tide comes in.

Again in the roar and the splash and the smash against the rocky paradise; how I feel it will win in its fight by its might; but applied it takes its flight to gather new strength—as the tide comes in.

Now watch it dash o'er that rocky gash, till a mountain of spray John in spray, and nebulous mist, with a graceful twist, leaps the solid barrier, then with wondrous twirl white flags unfurled, with rainbow tint and every glimmering, blue and wavy, the sun's bright light, as the tide comes in.

A SPECIAL SERVICE

A meeting will be held on Friday afternoon, by the women of all our churches at the North Chapel. The call has come from the Council of Women of Home Missions and the Federation of Women's Board of Foreign Missions who comprise not only the societies of the United States, but those of Canada and other sections of North America. A program has been sent from headquarters and will be used for this occasion. The hour is three, the day Friday, Feb. 20. Owing to the inclement weather of last Friday, the notice may not have been extended so far as would otherwise have been the case. It is hoped that each woman interested in this great work will find it a pleasure to come herself and to invite others.

ROSSINI'S STABAT MATER AT NORTH CHURCH

Music lovers are anticipating with pleasure the production of Rossini's "Stabat Mater" on the evening of Sunday, March 21, under the direction of Mr. Alex Bilbrick, choirmaster and organist. The oratorio will be given in full and a chorus of forty experienced singers will be assisted by well known soloists. The English words will be sung, adapted to the oratorio by William Ball. It has been many years that a work of this magnitude has been heard in Portsmouth and it was recently given at Symphony Hall, Boston, by the Handel and Haydn Society with four hundred voices.

INSURANCE SYSTEM FOR EMPLOYEES

Washington, Feb. 18—A plan for a surety insurance system for post-office employees enabling them to obtain bonds without going to surety companies is contained in the Senate post-office appropriation bill. An assessment would be levied upon employees of the service, from which losses would be made good.

The sub-committee decided in favor of extending a first class mail pre-payment system used in connection with second class mail, which relieves the use of stamps in certain cases. A saving to the government was expected to result.

EXETER

Exeter, Feb. 18—The funeral services for Mrs. Anna M. Clough, who died Sunday afternoon at the Exeter Cottage hospital from pneumonia, were held this afternoon at the First Church vestry, conducted by Rev. James W. Bixler, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Victor M. Thigpen, rector of the Christ church. Vocal selections by James W. Rathbun, Mrs. Clough was a resident of Seabrook but had been engaged here for many years as a chiropractor, where she had gained a wide reputation. She had previously lived in Newfields. She was born in Seabrook December 31, 1855, a daughter of John W. and Mary E. Chase Fogg, and is survived by a daughter, Esther Clough, living in Seabrook. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker F. L. Jenkins.

This evening in the Town hall, F. Schuyler Matthews gave a lecture in the Merrill Course, his subject being "Birds."

The condition of Peter Braine, a diver of a haddock at the Flynn studio, he was injured yesterday by a fall in the ice is reported to be improving.

The Exeter Cottage hospital, Mr. Braine was in the act of jumping from the dock on Water street when he slipped on the ice striking the back of his head with such force as to render him unconscious. It was at first feared the concussion or the brain might follow, but his recovery is now expected.

SEAL AND WALRUS COVER ICE PACKS

Newfoundland Tied Up—Suffering Keen.

Newfoundland, Feb. 18—Arctic ice packs, literally black with walrus seals, and other polar creatures, are the largest within memory, according to reports brought here by sailors and overland travelers. The solid ice extends farther south than at any time within years with the bays and inlets filling the Newfoundland coast locked tightly. The solid pack extends eight miles south of Walrusight, 100 miles north of Point Hay.

Newfoundland is ice-bound and the railroads are completely tied up. Inhabitants in the interior are suffering intensely and several deaths from exposure have resulted. Communication between settlements is impossible except by dog-sleds.

Reports of a strange malady have been received from Gender Bay, which is without a doctor. The disease is an affection of the throat and has claimed many lives, particularly children. Efforts are being made to send medical assistance and supplies to the community.

N. H. SEVENTH IN DEATH LIST

Lost 15.4 Per Thousand in Battle Fatalities.

SCHOONER RESCUED BY COAST GUARD

The fishing schooner Fannie E. Prescott, which was drifting helpless with a broken rudder after being cut adrift by the steam trawler wave in a rough sea, was rescued on Wednesday afternoon by the Coast Guard crew at Burnt Island station Port Clyde Men. Supt. S. R. Sands of the First District being informed by telephone Wednesday evening.

The crew of the station sighted the schooner in distress five miles off the station and with a heavy sea coming. They ran out in their power boat and succeeded in getting a line hoisted and towing the schooner into Port Clyde. The crew of 25 men and Captain A. G. Gentart were all well, but they had so tough experience, since she became disabled and capsized after she lost the trawler wave.

Boston, Feb. 18.—Search for the missing schooner Fannie E. Prescott will be discontinued by the coast guard cutter Gresham, ordered to put to sea from here today following report that the schooner is undamaged and Capt. Gentart and crew of 21 are in peril.

The steam trawler Wave, Capt. McLean, of the Bay State Fishing Company, last Friday fell in with the schooner 210 miles southwest by south of Boston light and towed her 153 miles when the hawser parted and could not be played aboard after that account of the ebbing sea. Yesterday the Wave arrived here without having engaged in fishing. The freight is consigned by the Gorham-Pew Fisheries Company of Gloucester.

THAW CAUSES TROUBLE FOR RAILROADS

The mild weather and resulting thaw of Wednesday was welcomed by everybody excepting the electric and steam railroad officials who saw in the thaw and the resulting flood of water, more trouble when the temperature dropped at night. There is so much snow on the ground that the water turns under the snow and rolls out on the track and then despite the running the cars twenty-four hours, and the liberal use of salt ice will form and make travel impossible in some places without picking the ice off the tracks.

COURT TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Superior court is still hearing jury cases in Exeter and next week Judge Sawyer will transfer the court to this 10th.

"Doe" Almy in his sporting column in the Boston Post raises some doubt as to whether it was Philby Gardner who wrestled John Kilbans here on Monday night, and then goes on to say that it was Kilbans who was not treating Touhey right by engaging in a matter of such importance when he was signed to wrestle Kilbans in Boston Thursday night. The Portsmouth wrestling fans know Philby Gardner as well if not better than Doe Almy, and there is not a question but what Gardner was here Monday. He has wrestled three several times and is as well-known as Kilbans.

George Touhey the wrestling promoter in Boston seems to have the sporting writers at his command in Boston for this is not the first time that such cheap assertions have been made about matches in this city Touhey seems to have the exalted opinion that he alone should control wrestling in New England, and he apparently vents all outside matches.

Frank McKevitt, the pocket billiard shark, gave a wonderful exhibition of one handed pool playing at a pool room on Congress street Monday evening. McKevitt is a free handed player and clearing the table in one run is one of his easy tricks.

The fifth annual roll call of the Franklin Pellets Veteran Firemen was held on Wednesday evening at their headquarters and there was 75 present and answered to their names, and many sent letters of regret.

In the absence of President Horace W. Gray confined to his home with illness, Carlos O. Hobbs the vice president presided. The meeting was one of the best social affairs held by the organization for a long time and it looked like old times to see the veteran fire fighters gathered around the festive board. A clam chowder with all of the necessary fixings was served and following this there were remarks and stories and a splendid musical program was given. The fire fighters quartet making a great hit. The committee in charge of the affair was H. W. Gray, C. O. Hobbs, H. B. Merrill, Levi Little and C. H. Hanscom.

The Queen City basketball team which will play the Portsmouth professionals at Freeman's hall this evening, will be a tough proposition to beat. It is a virtually the Bangor A. A. team the started in Maine. Manager Cruton received a wire last night from Shirley Belcher that he would be on time and that he would have in his line up Fred Head and Elton Belcher and the last two named are Bangor men and have played here on Saturday with the Portsmouth team and he is a fast proposition. Head is considered the fastest man in Maine and Belcher is a well known player, so that with two other good men they will have a well balanced and an aggressive team.

The locals will have in their line up Costello and Dugger guard, Hicks and Water center, Blinn and Schmalzried in forwards. The Queen City team will have a good bunch of roosters and a first game may be looked for.

A preliminary game will be between the Dover Victory Club team and the Independents of the Y. M. C. A.

NEWBURYPORT
LOCAL HIGH

The Newburyport High school defeated the local High basketball five at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Wednesday afternoon in a rather easy manner, outplaying the locals in all branches of the game.

The local team to be sure were handicapped in the first two periods by the absence of Paul Badger who has been ill, for when he went into the game in the last period he scored six baskets. Portsmouth used a number of substitutes but they were unable to stem the attack of the visitors until the last period.

Callup the left forward of the visiting team in one of the greatest school boy players seen here this season. He is now said to be often acquired as inherited.

It is generally and chiefly indicated by eruptions and sores, but in many cases it enlarges the glands of the neck, affects the internal organs, especially the lungs, and if neglected may develop into consumption.

It causes many troubles, and is aggravated by impure air, unwholesome food, bad water, too much heat or cold, and want of proper exercise.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the medicine that has been used with so much satisfaction by three generations, is wonderfully successful in the treatment of scrofula. Give it a trial.

If a cathartic or laxative is needed,

Take Hood's Pills,—there is nothing better for biliousness or constipation.

HILLQUITH ADmits SOVIET COUNSELSHIP

(By Associated Press)

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Morris Hillquith socialist leader and counsel for the New Socialist Assemblymen who are on trial for disloyalty, today denied that he was the paid counsel or adviser of the Russian Soviet bureau in this country or of L. A. Martens. Under stiff cross examination he admitted that he was the counselor but not the counsellor of the Bureau but denied that he had ever received any pay in any way for his work.

SPOTTERS AND SPIES FOR DRY LAW

Boston, Feb. 18.—Louis A. Coolidge, participating in a joint discussion on "National Prohibition: What Shall We Do About It?" at the monthly meeting of the Merchants' Club at the Algonquin Club last night, declared that prohibition is "an attempt to make a crime."

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, Feb. 18.—The national debt of Mexico is $45,730,301 pesos, according to a recent statement of Luis Cabrera, secretary of the treasury, who added that the interest unpaid amounts to $13,170,976 pesos.

London, Feb. 18.—The Rev. Everard Digby, known in England as the "Sporting parson," who has been offered the pastorate of the Church of the Ascension in Brooklyn, N. Y., toured the eastern United States as a member of a theatrical company several years ago.

Rev. Mr. Digby told an interviewer that the Brooklyn offer appealed to him. "I visited America in my acting days as a member of Mrs. Langtry's company," he said. "We had a very successful six months' season, opening at the Garrick Theatre, New York, with 'The Cross Ways' and touring the whole of the eastern states. If I now decide to go to America, I shall be renewing many happy memories and associations."

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Urn Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that the two hours of suffering, the super-complaint of rheumatism, does not stop, till agony reduces swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without compunction.

Affection has been tried and tested for years, and really miraculous results have been accomplished. In the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient often relapses at once, immediately after you start to take it, the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the veins and pores.

The man does not suddenly feel aches, dressed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all aches disappear in a few days.

Others reflect at once. Immediately after you start to take it, the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the veins and pores.

TOM OSBORNE WANTS NO MORE PRISON WORK

Would Act Only in Consultation in Penology.

Lieut Commander Thomas Mull Osborne in a statement given out today, said that he would not become the head of any prison again when he retires from the navy. He would, however, like to be regarded as an expert and will be ready at any time to be called in consultation in penology by those interested.

He has been offered positions in civil life but all have been declined relative to being the head of any penitentiary institution.

Lieut. Commander Osborne will tender his second resignation to the navy department when the present charges now being investigated relative to the prison are disposed of. He intends to follow teaching later on.

ABLE SPEAKER AT GRAFFORT CLUB

"When our Great-Grandfathers Were Young" was the subject of an able address by Prof. Richard Whoriskey of New Hampshire College at the North Church, chapel Wednesday afternoon, the lecture being under the auspices of the Graffort Club. There was a large attendance and the audience listened with earnest attention and genuine appreciation.

Prof. Whoriskey told of Columbus discovering this country and of the hardship the earlier settlers endured and of how the Spaniards flocked here after Columbus came. He told of different expeditions coming to our shores and of forming colonies and of the long and dangerous voyages in small crafts, as it then took four months to get from England to Virginia. He told that many of the early colonists died from hardships a few months after coming here.

He referred to Captain John Smith as the great man of the Virginia colony and who visited the Indians of Shuswap. He spoke of how Tammany ravaged the Virginia colony and many died of starvation. He told of the people flocking to this newly discovered country in the seventeenth century on account of religious persecution. He referred to the landing of the Pilgrims in 1620 and how the Speedwell and the Mayflower started and the former vessel put back and the little Mayflower continued on alone with her 102 passengers who landed at Plymouth Mass. Then he went on to tell of the Massachusetts Bay colony in 1632 settling in Salem, Mass., and that from 1630 to 1640 there were 20,000 new colonists to that vicinity.

The speaker referred to the strict laws and puritanical customs of those days. In the churches the men sat on one side of the church and the women on the other, while the children were made to sit in the gallery. It was a severe offence to giggle and men who went to sleep in church were tapped on the head, while women who fell asleep had a fox tail brushed across their faces. The sermons in those days were of two and three hours duration and the prayers often consumed two hours.

Prof. Whoriskey told of the homes of the early settlers being log cabins with big fireplaces and that the kitchen was the most desirable part of the house. Their sleeping rooms were up to date as regards sanitary conditions as they were not equipped with heat and windows were kept wide open. The early settlers had no knives or forks and ate with their fingers. They did have spoons, however, but they had plenty of good things to eat, the speaker said, for they had wild turkey, pigeons, wild berries, fruit, venison, fish, tea, coffee, etc. The speaker said many of the men drank in those days rum being their favorite beverage, for he believed it was a fact that Turkey was the only nation that barred out alcohol and that was a part of the religion of the Turks.

The speaker referred to the difficulty the earlier settlers found in their forms of government and then he came to present day world events and the problems resulting from the war. He said Americanization is a great word today and asked if we are really all good Americans. We worship the flag, he said, that is symbolized, but in everyday life we seem not willing to take responsibility to add the foreigners who come here as we should. We ought to do more for the new Americans if they stay here a period of years and get them to understand what our government stands for as if we do not know all about this matter how can we expect the foreigner to do so?
